

News Release

Release date: Immediate
Contact: Karen Thomas
963-6842

Local 4-H Members Place At Multi-County Fashion Revue

Four Lackawanna County 4-H textile science members recently attended the multi-county 4-H fashion revue in Montrose. They were: Silvia Phillips, Clarks Summit; Rachel Ratchford, Factoryville; Tiffany Gregory, Olyphant; and Renee Roberts, Clarks Summit. All are members of the Glenburn Sewing Club led by volunteer leaders, Hilda Lewis and Ann Northup.

Renee Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roberts, was named as a winner in the senior division. She will be representing the region at the state fashion revue held on the main campus of Penn State University on July 27. She will be competing against 60 members from across the state for the top 12 places.

During the event, the 4-H members will attend workshops and model their hand made garments for judging. They will be judged on appearance, fit, design, modeling ability and construction of the garment.

The 4-H clothing program is sponsored by Penn State Cooperative Extension. It teaches youth ages eight to nineteen clothing construction skills as well as increases their self-esteem, poise and confidence.

To learn more about the 4-H program or to volunteer to become an adult leader, call Penn State Cooperative Extension of Lackawanna County at 963-6842.

Penn State is committed to affirmative action, equal opportunity, and the diversity of its workforce.

###