Michio Kaku

Physicist • Author • TV Personality

Friday, September 30, 7p.m.

Scranton Cultural Center

Imagine that...

He's America's best known scientist, the go-to guy when CNN, Discovery and other television networks need someone to explain complex scientific issues in words we can all understand. Now he's coming to Lackawanna County and you can hear him in person.

Admission free for Lackawanna County Library System card holders

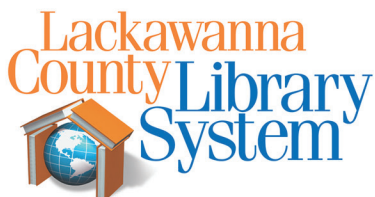

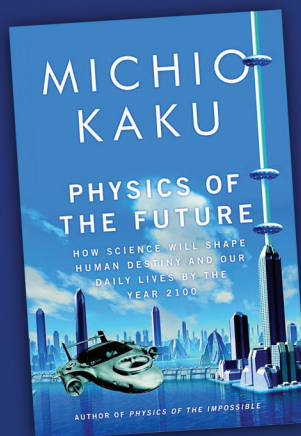

Tickets are available at any Lackawanna County Library System library, the Scranton Cultural Center box office or the Everhart Museum.
