

The Penn State Master Gardeners in Lackawanna County

Invite you to come to our

Saturday School

“From the Ground Up”

A workshop on the basics for the upcoming growing season.

Saturday, April 2, 2011

9 am - 12:30 pm

At the Anthracite Heritage Museum

McDade Park

Bald Mountain Road

Scranton, PA 18504

Cost $10.00 per person. Registration is required.

Topics include:

- Understanding the Soil: The soil is the anchor for all that grows. Learn about the interrelationship between plants and the soil, and how to get the best results.
- Starting Seeds: Begin the growing season early and economically by starting your own plants.
- Planning a Garden: Be a more successful gardener by seeing how the right plants fits in the right location, and learn how to design a garden.

Refreshments will be served, plus you will take home a bag full of gardening goodies!
